ISSUE NO. 28 – 15 September 2022

Kia ora Whānau,

Public Holiday Monday 26th September 2022

New Zealand will respectfully mark the passing of Queen Elizabeth II with a one-off public holiday on Monday 26 September 2022. This means that all state and state-integrated schools and kura will be closed on this day. We are mindful that this situation will not have been anticipated and as such will require additional considerations.

COVID-19

The government announced from 11:59 pm on 12 September 2022, the COVID-19 Protection Framework (the 'traffic lights') would be removed. The government also announced that only people who test positive for COVID-19 will be required to isolate for seven days. Household contacts are recommended to take a RAT test every day for five days. So long as they test negative, they will be able to go about daily life as normal. Household contacts isolating can follow the new self-isolation guidelines on 13 September. If they test negative and are asymptomatic, they do not need to self-isolate.

Te Wiki o Te Reo Māori - Māori Language Week

This week marks 50 years since the Māori language petition, with 30,000 signatures, was presented to Parliament by members of Ngā Tamatoa and Te Rōpū Reo Māori. This was a milestone moment in the revitalisation of Te Reo Māori me ngā tikanga, but as educators we know there is still mahi to be done. This year we also are celebrating 35 years of Te Reo Māori as an official language of Aotearoa New Zealand.

Today our Kapa Haka group are performing at UCOL and Study Link in Palmerston North.

This Saturday 17 September to mark Te Wiki o te Reo week, in conjunction with Manawatu District Libraries, local schools, Kauwhata Marae, and one of 3 qualifying Kapa for Te Matatini 2023, Te Tū Mataora will be performing from 3 pm at the Feilding High School Hall. Everyone is welcome to come along.
